JAMES HILTON - BARBER

James has been a member of my Art class for the past three years. As a prefect, he has served on the Discipline Portfolio, under my charge.

As an artist, James has proved to be a student who truly thinks outside the box. Working in the digital arena (photography and video) he has produced art which is intelligent, insightful and hard-hitting, commenting on his position as a young white male in a privileged section of post-apartheid society. He received an outstanding 100% for his Matric Exhibition which, in my opinion, could quite comfortably compare with the work of university students.

As a member of the Discipline Portfolio he exercised his responsibilities with integrity and fairness and never placed popularity with his peers and other pupils ahead of the thorough and principled carrying out of his duties as a Prefect on a difficult portfolio.

James is a young man of great potential whom I highly recommend. I hope that we will hear more of him in the future.
